Morning guys,

NO, we can't as that will show a customer needing to be serviced by the rep monthly and will lead to miss calls etc.

James send a mail a couple of weeks ago and the mail is used as authorization to collect.

So seeing I'm running the account myself for now, when I give the instruction to collect, someone simply uses the mail as the go ahead from a senior to create the collection on system?

What happens if I tele-sales customer wants to send stock back? They not linked to reps so surely we create the pick-up doc's then to send to LR's for collection?

James, am I on the right track here?

Morning Richard,

ORDERS SA will create a collection note as there's no rep linked to the one day only account.

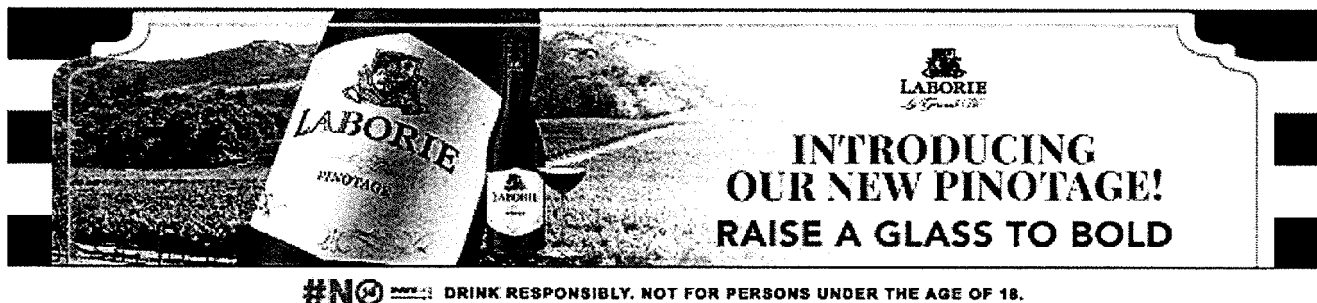

When you say 2 x KWV what brands are they, please just specify 2 x KWV 12Y Brandy for example?

Thank you

Hi Dirk,

2 x KWV have been rejected by customers.

Please could you collect these units from us? Alternatively, the rejected units can be collected with your next delivery.

Please let us know which of these options you'll be proceeding with so I can let our warehouse team know.
